

Movie Review (by Tonia Arvaniti)

Auggie is a kid that was born with a problem and this is why his face is very different than other people's. This is the first time he goes to school, at the age of 9. The school was very hard for him, at the start, because the majority of the kids made fun of him.

My favorite person is Auggie's father, because he's very funny and supports his son.

I liked it because the music, the actors and the plot are very interesting!

This movie makes me feel sad and angry at the beginning but happy in the end.

I would recommend this movie to all of my friends, because maybe it will change a lot of people's character, make them kinder and give them more confidence in themselves.
