

HALLOWEEN

"The hunted library"

On the Halloween night my friends and I went on the library to borrow some spooky books to read at night. While we were searching for books we heard books falling down. We got scared, but we finally went to find from which section the books fell. There were from the thriller section. I went to pick up the books and suddenly I saw a dead body. It was the librarian. We started ~~screaming~~ screaming and ran towards the exit. The doors closed, it was so terrifying. Then we saw two ghosts holding axes and they started hunting us. We ran as fast as we could but accidentally I tripped on a book and the two ghosts got me. I screamed for help but my friends were already gone. I was so terrified and didn't know what to do, when my alarm rang.
